DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

1. This action is responsive to Amendment filed on February 17, 2005. Claims 1-27 are pending examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hiscock, (U.S. Patent No. 6,721,787).

As to claim 1, Hiscock teaches a method comprising:

enabling a mobile unit to access a base station (see col. 3 lines 13-20 and lines 52-60);

downloading interface software when the mobile unit accesses the base station (see col. 6 lines 5-20).

As to claim 2, Hiscock teaches the method of claim 1 including initiating the downloading from the base station (see col. 6 lines 5-20).

As to claim 3, Hiscock teaches the method of claim 1 including initiating the downloading by the mobile unit (see col. 6 lines 5-20).

As to claims 4 and 15, Hiscock teaches the method and medium of claims 1 and 13 respectively including detecting a triggering event and in the response to the detection of said triggering event, determining whether interface software has been downloaded (see col. 3 lines 61-col. 4 lines 4).

As to claims 5 and 16, Hiscock teaches the method and medium of claims 4 and 15 respectively wherein if interface software has not been downloaded, downloading the interface software (see col. 6 lines 24-57).

As to claims 6 and 17, Hiscock teaches the method and medium of claims 4 and 15 respectively wherein if the interface software has not been downloaded, using default software (see col. 6 lines 24-57).

As to claims 7 and 18, Hiscock teaches the method and medium of claims 1 and 12 respectively wherein downloading interface software includes downloading new versions of an air interface protocol (see col. 3 lines 1-31).

As to claims 8 and 19, Hiscock teaches the method and medium of claims 1 and 12 respectively wherein downloading interface software includes downloading software suitable for a particular geographic area (see col. 3 lines 1-31).

Art Unit: 2155

As to claims 9 and 20, Hiscock teaches the method and medium of claims 1 and 12 respectively wherein downloading interface software includes downloading software to address interface compatibility problems (see col. 6 lines 29-47).

As to claims 10 and 22, Hiscock teaches the method and medium of claims 1 and 12 respectively including downloading an update to an air interface protocol (see col. 3 lines 1-31).

As to claims 11 and 21, Hiscock teaches the method and medium of claims 1 and 12 respectively including downloading substantially the entire air interface protocol (see col. 3 lines 1-31).

As to claim 12, Hiscock teaches an article comprising a medium storing instructions that enable a processor-based system to: enable a mobile unit to access a base station; and automatically download interface software when the mobile unit accesses the base station (see col. 3 lines 13-20 and lines 52-60 and col. 6 lines 5-20).

As to claim 13, Hiscock teaches the article of claim 12 further storing instructions that enable the interface software to be downloaded at the initiation of the base station (see col. 6 lines 5-20).

As to claim 14, Hiscock teaches the article of claim 12 further storing instructions that enable the processor-based system to initiate the downloading of the interface software (see col. 6 lines 5-20).

As to claim 23, Hiscock teaches a wireless device comprising: a processor; and a storage coupled to said processor, said storage storing instructions to automatically download interface software when the device accesses a base station (see col. 3 lines 13-20 and lines 52-60 and col. 6 lines 5-20).

As to claim 24, Hiscock teaches the device of claim 21 wherein said device is a wireless telephone (see col. 3 lines 13-25).

As to claim 25, Hiscock teaches the device of claim 21 wherein said processor receives an interface software download from the base station (see col. 6 lines 5-20).

As to claim 26, Hiscock teaches the device of claim 21 wherein said processor detects a triggering event in response to the detection of the triggering event determines whether interface software has been downloaded (see col. 3 lines 61-col. 4 lines 4).

As to claim 27, Hiscock teaches the device of claim 22 wherein said processor downloads the interface software if the interface software has not already been downloaded (see col. 6 lines 24-57).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed on February 17, 2005 were considered but were unpersuasive. Applicant argues that the limitation of claim 1 where interface software is downloaded to the mobile unit is not taught by the prior art Hiscock.

Examiner respectfully disagrees with Applicant's allegation. As Applicant admits, Hiscock teaches wireless syncing the same way hot-syncing is done through a cradle (column 6, lines 6-23). Examiner interprets that software that interfaces with the PDA is downloaded when service is provided to the PDA and data packets in the form of software as well as software commands are also downloaded by the PDA (column 6, lines 6-23). It is also deemed inherent that interface software is downloaded by the PDA from the hot sync cradle, and therefore can be downloaded wirelessly as taught by Hiscock (column 6, lines 10-15).

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
